PUBLISHER'S NOTE

For better or worse, warfare is one of mankind's defining tendencies. Coercion by organized violence has played a crucial role in human life since prehistory, and the need for battlefield advantages has provided a continual impetus to the development of science and technology.

This book contains over 700 illustrations covering the history of weapons and armor in primarily the preindustrial West from ancient times until the eighteenth century, with a particular emphasis on European cultures of the Medieval and Renaissance periods. The contents are arranged chronologically, and each plate has a caption identifying nationality and date of origin, where known. Four plates of nonspecific decorative illustrations incorporating motifs from the periods covered are included at the end of the book.

ARMS & ARMOR

A PICTORIAL ARCHIVE FROM NINETEENTH-CENTURY SOURCES

SELECTED & ARRANGED BY CAROL BELANGER GRAFTON

Over thousands of years, man has developed an enormous variety of offensive and defensive weapons for use in battle as well as a vast array of armor and other protective devices. Now artists and illustrators can draw on this extensive archive for superb copyright-free illustrations of vintage arms, armor and other battlefield paraphernalia.

Choose from a rich trove of over 750 illustrations compiled from rare nineteenth-century sources. Included are detailed, high-quality depictions—arranged chronologically and, to some extent, geographically—of suits of armor, chain mail, swords, halberds, spears, pikes, lances, crossbows, axes, daggers, helmets, shields, knives, small arms and a host of other implements, along with scenes of battle, siege, jousts, soldiers, horses and more.

Especially suitable for projects requiring a medieval or old-fashioned flavor, these illustrations reproduce extremely well. They will fill a myriad of needs for battle-related graphic art.

Original Dover (1995) publication. 758 black-and-white illustrations. Publisher's Note. Captions. 128pp. 8⅜ × 11. Paperbound.
